

S.J. PHILLIPS

Early 19th century gold, diamond and enamel navette panel and multi chain bracelet, c.1810, the gold panel with turquoise-blue and white opaque enamel border,

a central diamond cluster of oval form, with largest diamond to the middle of pear shape, spaced border of eight cushion diamond collet stones and outer frame of rose cut diamonds, all old cut stones, upon a black enamel field, the gold panel ground surrounding all chased and engraved with a foliate scroll and floral design, to an eight-row gold flowerhead chain link bracelet, testing as high carat gold, approximately 2.65cts of diamonds in all Bracelet length 16cm / 6½"

Navette panel 7cm / 1¾" x 2.8cm / 1 1/8"
Weight: 76g