

S.J. PHILLIPS

Mid-20th century gold, citrine, emerald, ruby and diamond bird brooch by Cartier, c.1965,

Weight: 34g

modelled in gold and engraved with a feather-textured finish, viewed from behind with its head turned to the left, the wings each set with a principal pear shaped citrine, an oval cabochon emerald eye and two graduating lines of calibre cut rubies forming stripes across the top of the head, beneath the wings the back partly visible as a tiered 'scale' feathers each set with a single cut diamond, gold tail feathers below, inscribed 'Cartier' and with serial number L2543 and L999

Length 5.8cm / 2 1/4"