S.J. PHILLIPS

19th century Burma ruby and diamond cross pendant, c.1850, the Latin form set along the arms with eleven cushion and oval cut facetted rubies, the central junction encircled by a ring of small cushion cut diamonds, each terminal with a further diamond highlight, all close collet set in silver and 18ct gold, on a four-stone diamond set suspension loop, French control marks for silver and 18ct gold, together with a later fitted S J Phillips case Length 6cm / 2 3/8"

Width 4cm / 1&#65533;"
Weight: 8.65g