

S.J. PHILLIPS

Pair of 19th century gold mounted pietra dura floral pendant earrings, c.1830, hung with drop shaped panels each inset with vari-coloured green, red, white, brown and mauve hardstones to depict flowers and foliage from a tall basket of flowers on a matt black ground, collet set in gold and with outer open frame of looping gold forming two snakes, the heads of which meet at the bottom and support a ball between them, from similar smaller panel tops of inverted drop outline and depicting a forget-me-not type flower stem in blue and green hardstones, the panel backs open set with a dentil border finish to the collet mounts

Length 10.2cm / 4"

Width 3.3cm / 1¼"

Weight: 39g