S.J. PHILLIPS

Pair of antique cushion cut diamond cartouche panel earrings, c.1810, with shaped openwork panels formed of graduating scrolls with bud like terminals, emanating from a central principal cushion cut diamond, echoed by a smaller cushion below suspending elongated cushion cut diamonds in pear shaped mounts, from trefoil scroll and collet cluster tops, partially open cut down collet set in silver and gold with old mine and cushion cut diamonds

Length to top of fittings 5.8cm / 2"

Width 3.2cm / 1"
Weight: 17g