

S.J. PHILLIPS

19th century gold, enamel and gem set renaissance revival chain necklace, c.1850, of 'Holbeinesque' design, with gold cagework links of rectangular, ball, lozenge and roundel shape, each featuring foliate and strapwork type scrolls and enamelled in russet-red, black and white, and green and blue, the ball links with a cabochon sapphire to either side and with rose cut diamond collet accents, the lozenge and tabular rectangular links each with a rose cut diamond to either side, dotted enamelling to the sides, similar dot decoration to the graduated roundel trio links, each with simple gold chain link joins Length 74cm / 29"

Width of ball link 1.1cm / 7/16"
Weight: 76.5g