S.J. PHILLIPS

Art Deco corallium rubrum and diamond bracelet by Cartier, London 1932, composed of a series of carved corallium insect motifs, possibly 19th century, with twin corallium rubrum roundels inbetween, each roundel inset with a diamond collet, the clasp formed of a fluted corallium dome with diamond collet and diamond line arrow echoing the wing shapes, mounted in platinum and yellow gold, signed 'Cartier London', serial number 8442, the diamonds of old brilliant and single cuts, accompanied by IAJA Expertise report no. XP1701-150424 signed by Olivier Bachet & Bernhard Berger declaring that in their opinion this is a 'genuine Cartier item' by Cartier London, 1932

Length 18cm / 7"

Width 1.5cm / 9/16"
Weight: 27g