S.J. PHILLIPS

19th century renaissance revival topaz, ruby, emerald and pearl set gold necklace and matched pair of earrings, c.1870, with eight graduated clusters of oval facetted pink topaz to spaced borders of four emeralds, four pearls and four rubies or spinels with gold Cupid's bow scrolls and beading, alternating gold double-headed engraved snake motifs each centred by a golden orange topaz flanked by two pearls, the end snakes of pink topaz, rubies and pearls, the matched earring clusters with golden topaz centres in alternating emerald and ruby borders, all open collet set and mounted in 18ct gold (unmarked), the clasp and earring fittings later added

Length 48.5cm / 19"

Width at front 3.8cm / 1"

Earring cluster length 2.8cm / 1 1/8"
Weight: 121g