S.J. PHILLIPS

Early 20th century Burma ruby and diamond 'Draperie' cluster swag pendant brooch by Cartier, New York 1919, with five clusters, two at either end of the jabot style pin and three suspended below on an articulated and graduated diamond collet chain, the clusters each with a pear or cushion ruby within a diamond set shaped navette frame, the largest to the bottom, the upper clusters with landscape set cushion rubies in lotus and bracket shaped diamond frames, all millegrain set, signed 'Cartier.N.Y.' serial no. 549, accompanied by AGL report no. CS66539 for the rubies giving the Burma origin opinion and that the stones show no evidence of heat treatment, also accompanied by copy of IAJA Expertise report no. XP2142-180324 signed by Olivier Bachet & Bernhard Berger declaring that in their opinion this is a genuine Cartier item by Cartier New York, 1919

Width 4.6cm / 1 13/18"

Length hung 6.2cm / 2"

Weight: 10g