S.J. PHILLIPS

Late 19th century diamond ribbon bow tiara by Carrington & Co. London c.1895, designed as a scrolling slender ribbon strand set along with a line of old brilliant cut diamonds, tied loosely to the centre with a double bow, the ends trailing either side in a undulating fashion to forked ends, mounted in silver and gold, together with a case with stamp for Carrington & Co, approximately 26.50cts of diamonds in all

Height at front including frame 4.8cm / 1 7/8"

Weight: 65g