

S.J. PHILLIPS

19th century diamond long tremblant floral and foliate spray brooch, c.1830, with elongated grassy leaves, flanking a principal six-petal cluster flowerhead with smaller five petal flower below, upon a central stem of short twin leaves and foliate buds above, grass-seed stem to the right, all set throughout with cushion brilliant, double eight and single cut diamonds, open cut down collet set in silver and gold

Length 15.2cm / 6"

Width maximum 8.5cm / 3 1/2"

Weight: 45.5g