

S.J. PHILLIPS

Pair of 18th century diamond drop and ribbon cluster pendant earrings, Dutch c.1760, each hung with an old pear cut brilliant within a stepped two row diamond border, larger cushion cut diamonds within, smaller single cut diamonds to the outside, below circular cluster panel tops and with a ribbon bow in between, the tops with a larger stone to middle within a two row border, the bows with larger cushion diamond to middle, close cut down collet set in silver, the pear and inner border open set, approximately 15cts of diamonds, back-hinged fittings possibly a later addition Length 5cm / 2"

Width 1.9cm / $\frac{3}{4}$ "

Weight: 19g