S.J. PHILLIPS

Mid-19th century cabochon garnet and diamond cluster brooch-bracelet, c.1850, featuring a central oval cluster wearable as a brooch,

the bold oval cabochon garnet, with inner line frame of small cushion cut diamonds and outer border of fancy shaped garnets forming a half-pipe frame, with a cushion cut diamond collet set at each cardinal point, to a tapering gold bracelet of architectural design, formed of an integral castellated series of links with hidden vertebral articulation, the diamonds within silver mounts, gold testing as 18ct
Length 17cm / 6"

Centre width 3.8cm / 1" tapering to 0.9cm / 3/8" at clasp

Cluster 3.8 x 3.5cm / 1 x 1 3/8"

Cluster height 1.8cm 5/8"
Weight: 75g